RETAILERS' OIL-COLOR CASE.

The above Case, to retail from, with spaces for a complete assortment of our Oil Colors, we furnish at cost price.

• INTRODUCTION. •

E herewith take great pleasure in presenting to our patrons and the Trade in general our newly revised Illustrated Price List of Artists' Materials. Since issuing the previous edition a great number of new Materials and Articles for Painting and Decorating have been added; and we beg to draw special attention to the vast increase of our own manufactures, which gain steadily in reputation.

We are also pleased to mention that we were enabled to reduce the prices of many of the articles, while we endeavor to always keep the quality to the highest standard.

Some prices, it will be noticed, have been advanced in order to make the Discounts more uniform.

Our Artists' Oil Colors in tubes, Cake Water Colors, Prepared Canvas, Academy Boards, Pastel Papers, etc., etc., are pronounced by the leading artists as equal to the best imported, for which we have many testimonials, also the premiums and medals awarded to us at the following Industrial Exhibitions and World's Fairs: Cincinnati, 1870; Vienna, 1873; Franklin Institute, Philadelphia, 1874; Centennial Exposition, Philadelphia, 1876, and New Orleans, 1884-5.

It has been a long-felt want by the Artist as well as the Dealer to be able to purchase and supply Pastel Colors in single tints, and these in any quantity desired. This we have met by recently starting the manufacture of SOFT PASTEL COLORS, and we are gratified to mention that during the very short introduction they have had, this new branch of our manufacture of Artists' Materials has been welcomed by all interested. There is a general revival in the art of Pastel Painting at present, and the low prices we have set for our Pastels, the excellent quality and the convenient packing of the same, will forward this new strife greatly.

The preparation we use for our Monochromatic Boards, Pastel Papers, Pastel Boards, Pastel Canvas and Pastel Papier-Maché Plaques, we have greatly improved on over the old style, which now makes them superior to any other in the market.

Our latest effort in the manufacture of Artists' Materials is the introduction of MOIST WATER COLORS, in half and whole pans, and we are pleased to mention that during the short time they are in the market, they have met with the approval of all that have used them. As to fineness, purity of colors and brilliancy of tints, they rank with the best imported.

The Classified Index, which precedes the Specified, shows the peruser at a glance the arrangement of the whole List, making it easy to find the desired articles, without referring to the Specified Index.

Orders from parties not known to the firm must be accompanied by satisfactory references, or a cash remittance, sufficient to cover risk of acceptance, if goods are to be sent C. O. D.

Remittances should be made by Bank Draft or P. O. Money Order, payable to the firm.

Postal Notes and P. O. Money Orders have to be made payable in Philadelphia. Where none of these can be procured, U. S. Bank Notes can be safely sent by Registered Mail or Express.

All goods are packed with the utmost care, and no allowance is therefore made for breakage.

All claims must be made within five days after receipt of goods.

Liquids are not mailable.

Packing cases will be charged at cost.

Prices are subject to variations without further notice.

All goods are shipped at purchaser's risk.

We respectfully beg to announce that we have completed arrangements for firing drawings made with the above, and assure satisfaction in every respect, having engaged experienced glass decorators.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE.

The Glass used should be roughened, in order to permit the crayons to draw more readily.

If desired, the drawing can easily be removed. Care, however, should be taken to clean this part of the glass well before commencing anew.

Where deeper tints are desired, it will suffice to moisten the crayons. It is preferable to have two crayons of the same tint at hand, one to be used dry, for designing outlines, the other slightly moistened, for shadows, &c. The crayons being very brittle, it will be advisable to use a sharp knife for pointing.

THE GLASS.

The selection of the glass is important; some require less fire for baking the colors, and others will assist the colors to appear more brilliant. Similar remarks can be made in reference to the surface of the glass; the most roughened surface is generally preferable, but is not absolutely necessary for a success, as much depends on the manner of drawing and the effect desired. The Artist who wishes to roughen the glass himself, can easily do this by giving it a coat of an alkaline solution, then letting the glass dry thoroughly, and, when entirely dry, immerse it in water to remove all alkaline matter (Potash or Soda). Before using the glass it must again be perfectly dry. Silicate of Soda is preferable to Silicate of Potash, as most glass already contains the former.

THE BAKING.

The finished drawings must be fired, to make them brilliant and permanent. Should the picture require retouching, this can, of course, be done as with any other glass painting, and the work can undergo another firing.

TO BEGINNERS.

Beginners may first use the "Crayons Grisailles," and thus procure designs in Monochrome. Designs in two or more colors can likewise be executed by using this assortment only: Black, Bluish Black, Brown and Red.

TRACING.

The transparency of glass offers advantages to persons not having a knowledge of drawing to accomplish the work by tracing.

The 6 x 9 and 7 x 10 are made lighter in wood, and make very desirable outdoor sketching companions.

In introducing the above-illustrated new Drawing Board, we wish to draw the attention of Draughtsmen to the great advantages it has over any other drawing board heretofore made.

The Panel is made of best quality pine wood, and has no end pieces glued or fastened to it, but is held straight by two ledges, dovetailed to the bottom of the board, thus allowing the board to shrink and expand.

The edges of the board are grooved, as shown by sectional view, to admit four bars made of hard wood, with V-shaped tongues fitting the grooves. The bars are hinged to the back of the board, and when closed are held firmly by brass buttons, and thus form a straight edge for the T square, adding greatly to the strength of the board.

Those parts of the hinges which are screwed to the board have their butts partly cut away, in order to accommodate shrinkage and expansion.

DRAWING MATERIALS.

WEBER'S UNIVERSAL DRAWING BOARDS.

The size of the board, including the bars, indicates the size of the paper to be used. The corners being clipped, the paper is laid flat on a table and damped on the back. The board is then placed on the paper, face down, and the bars turned back. The paper is now turned over the edges, in opposite directions, closing each bar as the paper is turned in, while the tongues draw the paper into the grooves from the top of the board.

The advantages of the Universal Drawing Board are already plainly stated in the foregoing description ; however, we beg to draw attention to the following points, so essential with a perfect Drawing Board :

1st. It possesses absolute durability through the mode of constructing the board and attaching the frame.

2d. The board is unable to get out of angle, while the frame, adding to the strength, will always form a true edge for the T square.

3d. It invariably makes a perfect and smooth stretch, and does away with the gluing of the paper to the surface of the board.

4th. It will stretch any quality of drawing paper, and saves much time and annoyance in mounting the same, as well as expense for repairing.
